HOW TO SET UP ADS

Ads must be on white paper, ready to be photographed. They must be typed, or done with India Ink - ballpoints will not reproduce. Artwork is welcomed in ads - and doesn't cost a cent more, but the art must be black and white line work – color and two tones won't come up. There is no 1/3 page ad rate, because I refuse to put four 1/3 page ads on one page. Do not use the ¼ page ad rate, if avoidable. It is too small to see. If you do use it, it is best to set your ad up at 4" x 5" instead of 8½ x 11". Matter of fact you must use 4" x 5", in order to make FA readable. And for ½ page ads, if you wish it right side up, send it in 5" x 8". This makes the type much larger. And speaking of ads, let's advertise, ok?

Small ads – 10¢ per line.

THAT'S WHAT WE'RE HERE FOR!

Ye Olde EDITORIAL

Writing this editorial will be difficult, as I can think of nothing to editorialize on. All seems right with fandom. So I suppose I'll deal with FA. There are a few things I could say on that! (as always!)

We are continually getting more subscribers and contributors, tho the contributors are almost as numerous as the subscribers at this point. I've even found a new writer-myself. Out of desperation, for there seems to be no article writers left; I've decided to make a fool of me, and touch upon my favorite subject-the JSA. So, starting next issue, and probably ending there, I'll have an article on the JSA. While speaking of articles, I will also have one on the St. Louis con, if this Dallas one receives favorable response.

And regarding the letter column in this issue. Sorry 'bout that. I just didn't get enough interesting letters to warrant it. I got lots of rave letters (thank allah!) but who enjoys those?

And so ends my smallest editorial yet.

But...!!! I haven't appealed to you good souls yet. And who am I to break tradition. So.....

C'mon-everybody send in at least a 4 x 5, 1/4 page ad for a measly $2.75. If not that, how 'bout 10 lines for $1.00? I also beg of you - try to get more subs. Remember, you get $2.75 worth of ad space for each new sub you get. (See FA #2, page 9)

And lastly, if any of you fanzine editors wants a free plug-and who doesn't-send me a free copy of your zine, and you'll receive one.

RECOMMENDED READING

The Collector #9, 10 - B - Bill Wilson, 1535 Oneida Dr., Clairton, PA. Bimonthly. 25¢ each. An article zine, photo-offset, wrap around, 20 pages. Both have fairly thorough articles with good illos.

Journey Into Comics #2 A; Paul Ligrazie Jr., 250 South Rd., Apt. 763, Scarsdale, NY 10583. 30¢ - in envelope; 14 pages. All offset, all strips. This zine rates an "A" because it has successfully combined excellent art and excellent satirical humor. As with Fandom Calling (in FA 2), it is almost unique.

Dolfin Comics - A - one shot - Gary Accord, 1119 N. Clinton, Dallas, TX 75208. 60¢ a copy. A strip zine, all photo offset, wrap around, with full color covers. 44 pages. For anyone that likes Star-Studded comics.

The Cult Speaks - C - biweekly adzine-ditto. Gary Behmeyer, 1760 E Isaacs, Walla Walla, WA. 12¢ a copy. First issue only 1 page, should get longer as time marches on.

Contact - another new adzine. -C- It's photo-offset...but decide for yourself. It's free! (The ads are higher than in FA, and it's only 10 pages long) Tell Ron Barlow, 715 Montford Ave., Balti, MD 21224, that Chuck sent ya'.

Comic Forum - A - As most of you know, I'm "hot" on fanzines that provide a service to Fandom. This zine is very good, and deserves everyone's support. It's 20¢ a copy, and well worth it. Send to Billy McKinnon, 2352 Albana, Houston, TX 77005. 24 pages, mixed processes.

Quantum - B - #4 48 pages. It's a combination of everything except strips. A pretty good zine for 35¢ from Steve Carlburg, Box 484, Nicoma Park, OK 73060.

NOTICE!!

I hereby apologize to everyone whose name I have mispeled in my Dalas con arcticle.

UNINVITED VISITORS, Cowles Company, $6.95, 244 pages; Ivan T. Sanderson. This is an utterly fascinating and absorbing book. You may not agree with the many theories thor Sanderson puts forth (I didn't), but much of what he says is sound and logical, and there are many puzzling mysteries offered up in this book that will make you stop and think--and you'll probably find yourself saying (as I did) "Gee, that does make sense!" For example, in chapter six, he goes into the unexplained mystery of the "sea Monster" that washed up on the Australian coast several years ago, and ties it in with the UFO question -- very logically, too! He points out how the earth is being mapped and surveyed by UFOs (maybe David Vincent is right!), he covers the "space monster" that was reportedly seen in West Virginia a couple of years ago, and he also has a meaty section devoted to the "men in black." This part, to me, was the most fascinating of the entire book, as it told of the men who always seem to pop up after someone has reported seeing a UFO; they ask questions, pretending to be government agents, collect any photos that there may be of the UFO, and then leave mysteriously. One such visit, that is detailed in the book, tells of one of these "men in black" who was over 7 feet tall, and...well, there's no need for me to go into that startling episode here; just read the book, and be amazed, as I was!

Mr. Sanderson's qualifications are certainly impressive...he is a biologist who also holds degrees in Geology and Zoology, and he takes a clear look at the UFO question. He comes up with some pretty startling observations, too! I might add that this book has a very attractive cover; it's a new "3-D" process that not only offers depth to the cover picture, but also affords "movement" when the book is held at different angles.

For a truly fascinating reading experience, I recommend this book to you without reservation. Even though it costs $6.95 for this hardback, it's worth every penny!

LEST DARKNESS FALL, Pyramid Books, 40¢, 174 pages; L. Sprague de Camp. This book is a bit old, having first appeared several years ago, but if you're lucky you'll be able to find it still on sale at the larger newsstands, or perhaps you can find a copy in some second-hand book store. What ever efforts it takes on your part to find it will be richly rewarded by this very enjoyable tale!

Briefly, it concerns this chap who is accidently thrust back into time, back to the days of the Roman Empire. After orienting himself in these strange surroundings, our hero (a small fellow with a big nose) sets about to raise the stan orienting himself in these strange surroundings, our hero (a small fellow with a big nose) sets about to raise the standard of living of Rome...and the world...and ends up owning half the planet! That may sound rather simple, but I assure you, for our (sometimes-bumbling) hero, it isn't! Many very funny things happen in this book, there is just the right amount of action, and it has a perfect ending. What more could you want? And I even liked the cover! (Hey, that's two covers in a row I've liked! Will wonders never cease?!)

To sum up: this is a rousing tale of wit and "charm" (I dislike that word, but it fits here), and if you have to steal a copy...well, ... just don't get caught!

MAGAZINES: Although this is a book-review column, I'd like to turn to a couple of magazines for a moment... FANTASTIC and AMAZING STORIES. AMAZING eas, of course, the first s-f magazine, and was for some time, one of the leaders in the field. It's had its ups and downs...and right now it's moving out of a "down" period into what looks to be "better times." Likewise, FANTASTIC (the companion magazine) is on the upswing too, and I urge you to try the latest issues of each of these publications. The upswing is due, a great deal, to the editing of Harry Harrison, and his policies, if followed by the new editor, will re-establish these two mags as important publications in the field. They're both using more new material, plus the reprints have been selected with more care, and... probably the most important item...the letter column has been reinstated in both mags! I have always felt that a letter column is the vital 'spark' that makes any magazine come alive, besides providing necessary feedback to the authors, artists, and the editor. As published now, both FANTASTIC and AMAZING deserve your support..and let us hope they continue to improve in the near-future as much as they have in the recent-past.

And yes, they generally have good covers, too!

Krazy Kat began in 1910 in an early strip, "The Dingbat Family." For over a quarter of a century there was one basic plot situation. Krazy Kat loved Ignatz Mouse, but Ignatz hated him. Ignatz showed his hate every time he hurled a brick at Krazy. Krazy was just grateful that Ignatz noticed him.

Krazy had a protector, Offissa Pupp, who locked Ignatz in jail. Of course, Ignatz was back throwing bricks the next day.

"No matter how often the brick 'beancreased' the Kat it was Ignatz who was always the loser. For Ignatz was trapped by his own lack of imagination. The cynic, the anarchist, the scoffer-he was totally defeated by the Kat's love-an all conquering force that could be deterred by nothing and no one." (Penguin Book of Comics, page 96)

The background for this strip was the Arizona desert. The reason for this was simple: The creator, George Herriman, was obsessed with the mysterious desert scenery.

Krazy Kat was a unique strip. And for this reason, King Features let it die with its creator in 1944.

But Krazy Kat did not die in 1944. He still had a place in the hearts of his loyal readers. And in 1951 Dell Publishing Co., Inc. adopted the Kat into a quarterly comic.

So if anyone calls you a crazy cat-just 'bean' him with a brick. But please don't tell him who told you to do it.

I NEED YOUR HELP!!

In order to keep this column going, I would like your help. What comic characters would you like me to write about in future issues of Fandom's Agent? This is also your magazine, so how about sending me a card today (at the same time you can send your subscriptions and ads to Chuck. We need him-he needs us.) Please send your suggestions to me, George Schwartz, 5470 North 68th Street, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53218.

HERE COMES THE BOUNCER

And he came right into the life of his own identity. His other self wouldn't fight the forces of evil--but he would. Confused? Well, let's see if the creator of the Bouncer can clear things up. It's all yours Mr....oh, ah, ...go ahead---

> "What's this? Two men arguing? I mean one man who is really two? Adam Anteas Jr., the sculptor, doesn't want to be bothered by the bouncer, who wants to dash about, say...The Bouncer is Adam Anteas Jr., too--this is all mixed up..."

Still confused? Bet Chuck isn't. ((how much)) Well, for those of you not as wise as Chuck is, here is the origin of the Bouncer.

About 6423 years ago, at about 3:45 p.m., Hercules fought Anteas, the Son of Earth. But every time old Herc would knock old Anteasdown, Anteas would bounce back. Why you ask? Because Anteas was the Son of Earth and contact with earth made him stronger. All Herc had to do was hold Anteas up in the air, away from the ground, and Anteas would lose his strength.

Well time passed, as it usually does, and Anteas' descendant, Adam Anteas Jr., was born. Old Adam was a bouncy youngster--he bounced off the floor, out of a window, and out of an airplane. After breaking a few sports records, Adam vowed never to use his inherited magic powers again.

Years pass. One day the District Attorney (and his daughter, Penny) ask Adam to help him catch a criminal, the Glow-Worm. Adam refuses to use his magic powers. They leave. Adam enters a secret room in his studio and unveils a life size sculpture of himself as a hero. But the statue looks exactly like Anteas, the Bouncer. The statue comes to life and speaks:

> "Yes, I've come to life! You're more dead than alive-you don't expect blessings to drop in your lap-you have to fight for it or you'll never have it!" ..."Call me The Bouncer, because I bounced the laziness out of your soul--and the first thing you're going to do is sculpt a statue of John Manly, D.A. Something real enough to fool the Glow-Worm!"

At night, they bounce to the other end of the city with the statue. The Bouncer vanishes and Adam gets full credit for the statue. At midnight, a bomb is thrown at the statue. (the Glow-Worm thought the statue was the D.A.) A glowing man kicks Adam out the window, he hits ground and the Bouncer appears. Together they fight the crooks.

Adam has fun fighting. But some big bozo picks Adam and the Bouncer up off the ground and knocks their heads together. They are tied feet up at the Glow-Worm's hideout. They trick the big bozo into throwing dirt at them and, thus, regain their powers. They then mop up the gang.

Hope you're not confused anymore. This exciting tale takes place in The Bouncer, September, 1944, No.11, and is a Fox Feature Syndicate, Inc. production. Also in this issue are: One Round Hogan, The Joy Family, and Rocket Kelly.

Now that this article is almost over, I'm confused. If this is No.11 of the Bouncer, and this is the origin story, what happened to issues 1 thru 10?? Well, Chuck, I've done my part..((talk about leaving a story in mid-air-oh well. Actually, I'm afraid I had never even heard of the Bounter before this article. But, as I'm never at a loss for words (me and all the other babbling idiots), I have two theories. First, the creator didn't get around to the origin until issue 11-similar to Doc Strange in Strange Tales 110 to 114-or, Second, issue #1 thru 10 were some other title, as with the Black Hood, who started with issue #9. Can anybody out there clarify things? Chuck))

PLUS many more top-quality contributions! Again, just 25¢ for a copy sent flat in a sturdy manilla envelope. How can you lose??????? Order today!

BACK ISSUES of The Collector are all available, but copies are slowly but surely decreasing. Do not hesitate, however, as if there is enough response for sold out issues, second printings will be issued. #1 (15¢), #2 (15¢), #3-4 (30¢), #5-6 (30¢), #7 (15¢), #8 (25¢), #9 (25¢). For details on each issue, send an s.a.s.e. or note previous RRDCs.

ADVERTISING RATES: PLEASE write for information, as they are subject to change very soon. Ads are appreciated, but not overly stressed. There are NO exceptions to deadlines. If you are interested in advertising, please write, as I'm sure you'll be pleased with our fairly low rates, fast response (due to TC's on-time bi-monthly schedule), & simple layout instructions.

REMEMBER! TC isn't the best, or the worst either. It's a top-quality fanzine slowly rising in popularity, print run, & circulation. We accept all contributions of worthy quality, and orders are always welcomed. If you're the kind that's not afraid to try a good 'zine, then try TC and I'm sure you won't be disappointed. As to what we feature, we try to include humor, super hero, and adventure into each issue; and we even occasionally drift into subjects concerning radio, television, and other pieces of interest including comic strips, BLBs, and other things. So if you're game, try TC today. If you're not, you don't know what you're missing!!!

COMICBOOKS FOR SALE BY: R.J. BANKS, BOX B, CORSICANA, TEXAS 75110

See my adv. in previous issue for general ordering info, or see my ad in RBCC #58, or in the current issue of CONTACT...I'm advertising much more this year....
I have something over 5,000 comicbooks for sale, mostly over last 3 years. Acquiring hundreds more each week.

I have about 300 giants/annuals without covers that I'll sell on a grab-bag basis very cheaply. So far as I can, I'll follow your stated preference for SUPERMAN group, MARVEL group, DISNEY group & if you wish, even list titles. Sorry, I don't even know what the dates on most of these are, or the issue numbers. 4/50¢, 10/$1. Condition is excellent on most, except that they have no covers.

Other giants/annuals, cond. varies, but most are good-v.g. I have more than one copy of most & of course will send the best I have available when I receive your order:

Ever hear of Howie Post? Sure you have!?! Well, for those that may not, he's one of the originators of D.C.'s new smash "jungle" feature: Anthro. Well, about ten years ago(?) he worked for Atlas (Marvel). I have a #2 copy of his creation THE MONKEY AND THE BEAR for trade. It's just plain good and is from November, 1953. Want to trade for it or any of the other issues? Please make exact trade offers (state condition of your issues). Enclose S.S.A.E. if you want a reply. AD EXPIRES IN 30 DAYS. PLEASE READ TERMS.
